Foreign trade import and export of Nantong in April restored growth of 15%

By Wu Xiaoyun

Due to a series of foreign trade stabilization policies, Nantong foreign trade export increase is better than market expectation in April. According to the latest statistics of Nantong Customs, from January to April, the realized foreign import and export value of Nantong is 76.9 billion Yuan, which is 1.9% less than that of same period last year.

From the monthly trend, in March and April, the foreign trade of Nantong restored obvious growth. As restoration of work and operation is better and domestic supply chain is restored, the foreign trade pace started to recover since March. A lot of delayed orders due to suspension of work and operation and lack of labour were delivered also, which made the foreign trade import and export increased. In April, the foreign trade of our city reached 21 billion Yuan, which increased 15% and the comparative growth is 0.9%.

Moved to Nantong Hi-Tech Industrial Development Zone from Shanghai Shanghai Unitech Electronics Co., Ltd. is expected to be in operation in June

By Chen Jing

Shanghai Unitech Electronics (Nantong) Co., Ltd. located at Nantong Hi-Tech Industrial Development Zone was founded by Taiwan Yaohua group and Shanghai Unitech Electronics in 2018. It manufactures printed circuit board and flexible and rigid circuit board. According to what general manager Zhen Zhenshan said, all the phase 1 workshops have been completed and all equipment has been moved in. In the present, they are working on trial production. The estimated time to start operation is in June.

Taiwan invested company Shanghai Unitech Electronics of more than 20 years of history was located in Qingpu district of Shanghai. In 2018, the place was involved in demolition project. The management considered to move integrally. 'Nantong has obvious location advantages, convenient transport, first class administrative environment, and ample talents. Nantong Hi-Tech Industrial Development Zone especially has electronic industry agglomeration, complete industrial supports and good development advantages. After a site visit, we decided that it was the place!' Zhen Zhenshan said, since the company settled in Nantong Hi-Tech Industrial Development Zone, government sectors provided a lot of policy preferences and supports.

Zhen Zhenshan is confident. He said that no matter in Shanghai or Nantong, the company had the same development advantage, which was the technological support from its parent company Taiwan Yaohua group.

'In three years, we plan to build phase 2 workshops and employ 2100 people and realize an output of 1.5 billion Yuan per year. We will try to be listed in three to five years.' Zhen Zhenshan said.
