Jiangsu health code, travel card, nucleic acid test result Place code 'three in one', more convenient to present

By Zhang Liang

On 20 April, 'Haotong code' official operator published news that, by scanning 'place QR code' with 'Haotong code' wechat mini program, personal health status, travel card, and nucleic acid test result within 72 hours can be presented three in one. Since 30 March, 'place QR code' is promoted over Nantong. People can scan the respective 'place QR code' by 'Haotong code' wechat mini program when entering public places. The upgrading realized three in one presentation of personal Jiangsu health code, travel card, and nucleic acid test result within 72 hours. Citizens do not have to switch between different Applications, and the convenience was improved. One thing to note is that if 'travel card not checked' is shown after scanning 'place QR code', it means that state council travel card under citizens' Jiangsu health code is not checked yet, citizens are suggested to check travel card in Jiangsu health code before leaving home.

Nucleic acid test for 'everyone that is supposed to be tested' 'no omission' for foreigners

By Han Mei

'Thanks...there is...' on 17 April, at the nucleic acid test sampling point in Chuntian community, Xinkai streets, Nantong Economic&Technological Development Area, international student Eve of Jiangsu Shipping College although spoke not fluent Chinese, but was very familiar with the procedures of nucleic acid test sampling. Presented the two codes, temperature measurement, prepared sampling code in advance...very soon Eve completed the sampling, the procedure was simple and fast. Eve and other 5 international students of Jiangsu

Shipping College stayed in Chuntian Huayuan. Due to the epidemic, they suspended classes and stayed home. Before, the community got to know the condition in 'knock on the door action', recorded it. As the implementation of nucleic acid test for all, leader of the second square of Chuntian community Fan Wentao went to their apartment actively, and contacted the 6 people. He informed them to do nucleic acid tests, and helped them apply for sampling code. To express more precisely, and let foreigners know the current epidemic prevention and control policies, before the visit, Fan Wentao checked dictionaries, prepared draft, to ensure the successful communication.
