Famous oriental white stork babies fed by mother alone started to leave nest for food Our stork babies have grown up

By Jiang Jianhua

The wild oriental white stork family in Nantong forest safari park, after the father bird went missing on 29 April, whether the 3 less than 1 month old baby birds can grow up successfully fed by single parent the mother bird, has attracted readers’ attention continuously.

On 11 June, after several days of short distance flying training, the ‘first-born’ and ‘second child’ of the 3 baby birds flew to feeding ground with their mother one after another, which meant: the successful breeding of oriental white stork in the wild in Nantong will be realized soon.

Nantong is close to the Yangtze River and the sea, has dense river network, vast intertidal zone, and excellent ecological environment. It’s the ideal habitat or migration stopover for many wild birds, especially many wild waterfowls. According to birds census and research of birds watchers, there are 19 orders, 61 families, 421 species recorded resident birds, migratory birds and passing birds in Nantong, which accounts for one third of the total number of bird species in China. As an endangered bird, oriental white stork which is called ‘national treasure among birds’ is not commonly seen in Nantong, and their successful breeding in the wild has not been recorded before.

A foreign ship used up materials, crew from 8 countries were trapped Nantong maritime sent supplies in winds and waves

By Wu Xiaoyun

On 13 June ‘coastal fire control tug 1’ carried 3-ton rescue supplies, and sent to Liberian ‘PUGNAX’ ship which anchored at Nantong Qidong open ocean. The move solved the food shortage problem for 26 foreign crew members from 8 countries including Holland, Finland, and Germany on ‘PUGNAX’.

‘PUGNAX’ acted by Nantong Jietong international shipping agency Co., Ltd. is a Liberian bulk freighter. It left the last port Rotterdam of Holland on 17 February 2022, anchored at Nantong

Qidong open ocean on 30 April. It planned to berth at Qidong COSCO port to load cargo. However, influenced by epidemic control and prevention, the cargo could not be loaded to the ship temporarily. Up to now the ship has anchored in Nantong Qidong open ocean for more than 40 days. The ship carried 26 foreign crew members. Food was in severe shortage, only could last about 3 days, the condition was very urgent.

On 9 June, ‘PUGNAX’ sent urgent request to Nantong Jietong international shipping agency Co., Ltd. to apply for food supply. The agency company reported the relevant condition to Nantong and Qidong epidemic prevention and control headquarters. Knowing the information, Nantong maritime bureau contacted the agent immediately, asked them to look for suitable tug to transport relevant materials.

From ‘coastal fire control tug 1’ loading point to open ocean where ‘PUGNAX’ anchored, it takes more than 6 hours. In the afternoon of the transport, there was large wind and waves. To ensure its successful implementation, workers of Nantong maritime bureau took ‘Haixun 0692’ to monitor the whole process.
